October 2, 2017

Q: Can employees have mini-fridges in LTC offices for their own use, and in which resident food is NEVER stored in? If so do they have to be temp logged? How frequently?

A: If the refrigerators are not used to store any food for resident use the regulations would not prohibit the staff from having the refrigerators or regulate when or how often the temperatures were taken.